

Respected Sir/Mam,

On 16th of September, while giving my CAT1 exam, due to heavy rain in my area electricity was fluctuating, in the end of exam when I was uploading my third question (last question), electricity was gone so from the laptop side it was not able to slide the question to third one on the server due to network connectivity and my answer was overwritten to the first question which I uploaded from phone due to false syncing. I have indeed Inverter at my home but it takes time to perform the relay and then router takes time to reconfigure. This issue has been faced by me for the first time.

So kindly consider my application for RE-CAT for my better future.

Also as per the instructions I have filled the google form on the very same day just after exam. And also informed this to my proctor and exam proctor.

Thankyou,
